FY 2011 Drug Control Program Highlights

The President's Fiscal Year (FY) 2011 National Drug Control Budget requests $15.5 billion to reduce drug use and its consequences in the United States. This represents an increase of $521.1 million (3.5 percent) over the FY 2010 enacted level of $15.0 billion. These resources are categorized around five functions: (1) Substance Abuse Prevention, (2) Substance Abuse Treatment, (3) Domestic Law Enforcement, (4) Interdiction, and (5) International Support.

Prevention and Treatment

Evidence-based prevention and treatment are critical to combating illegal drug use and addiction. The President's FY 2011 budget increases drug prevention by 13.4 percent and drug treatment by 3.7 percent over the FY 2010 enacted level. The total budget is $5.6 billion for these efforts, $340.3 million above the FY 2010 enacted level. The budget includes $151.3 million in new funding for creating a national, community-based prevention system to protect adolescents; training and engaging primary health care to intervene in emerging cases of drug abuse; expanding and improving specialty addiction care; developing safe and efficient ways to manage drug-related offenders; and creating a permanent drug monitoring system.

Domestic Law Enforcement

Over $3.9 billion in Federal resources support domestic law enforcement efforts, an increase of $73.8 million (1.9%) over the FY 2010 level. The Departments of Justice, Homeland Security, and Treasury, with support from the Department of Defense's National Guard, provide key domestic law enforcement support.

Interdiction

With an increase of $86.9 million (2.4%) over the FY 2010 level, $3.7 billion supports Federal interdiction efforts. The Departments of Homeland Security, Defense, and State perform activities designed to interrupt the trafficking of illicit drugs into the United States.

International

The Budget requests over $2.3 billion to provide international support, an increase of $20.1 million (0.9%) over the FY 2010 level. The Departments of Defense, Justice, and State perform a wide range of drug control activities primarily conducted in areas outside of the United States, focusing on the disruption or dismantlement of the most significant international drug organizations, and increasing the drug enforcement capability of partner nations.
